TO A MAIDEN OF SIXTEEN.

I do not fondly ask from you
The qualities of a noble heart,
A mind whose thoughts are pure and true,
A tongue that speeds no venomed dart,
A temper sweet or gentle mood,
Unselfishness or high endeavor—
I do not ask you to "be good,
Sweet maid," or even to be "clever!"

I do not ask for poet's song,
For dreamer's tale, high gifts of mind,
For orator's eloquence righting wrong—
Gifts all, no doubt, to you assigned;
I do not ask for theories new,
One's powers of comprehension tasking,
For wisdom or for wit from you
(There would not be much use in asking).

I do not ask you for the gift
All other gifts so far above.
I will be brave and make a shift
To live my life without your love—
Not mine to play a lover's part,
So, though the omission is distressing,
I do not ask you for your heart.
I only ask a minor blessing.

I do not ask you when we meet
To condescend to notice me,
But when kind fate affords that treat
Pray bear in mind this modest plea:
I do not ask you to sit still,
Though in your chair you always wriggle.
I'd have you do whate'er you will.
I only ask you—not to giggle!

—Punch.

THE REAL REASON.

I had arrived at Monte Carlo about 2 o'clock and after a late lunch set out in search of my friends the Verneys. I found Master Arthur, a serious minded young politician of 22, in his room at the hotel. He was completing an elaborate toilet and drinking champagne.

"Aynsley!" he cried in surprise. "I thought you were in London."

"The spirit of restlessness," I explained. My eye dwelt for a moment on the champagne. "A little low, Arthur?"

He blushed. Arthur was the highly respectable son of an eminently respectable father, who was M. P. and other things.

He glanced at the clock, then rose and picked up his hat and gloves.

"A stroll!" I finished, with a grin.

He laughed nervously.

"Look here, Aynsley," he said, "you'll find the governor and Evelyn on the terrace. Do you mind if I run away now?"

I got up and laid a hand on his shoulder in a paternal fashion. "She is a woman in a thousand, Arthur. Au revoir and good luck!"

He blushed again—he was really a most nervous young man—and hurried away. I followed him out of the hotel, then strolled leisurely through the gardens and round to the terrace. I espied Mr. Verney and his daughter sitting almost immediately in the rear of the casino. I walked up to them.

"Well, 'pon my word!" cried Mr. Varney. A smile dimpled round Miss Verney's mouth as she took my hand. I explained lucidly how it was I came to leave London in so unexpected a fashion.

"It enslaves us all," I finished, with a graceful wave of my hand toward the casino.

"Indeed," said Miss Verney politely.

After a few minutes' conversation Mr. Verney pulled out his watch.

"I'm very glad you came, Aynsley," he said, "as I left off last night in the midst of a little mathematical experiment with trente et quarante, and I thought that if you would kindly look after Evelyn I'd"—

"Delighted!" I said quickly. "I trust the experiment will be brought to a satisfactory conclusion."

As soon as he had taken his departure I glanced at Miss Verney. She was examining the handle of her parasol with some intentness. I made a mental note that white suited her admirably—in fact, better than any other girl of my acquaintance.

"Perfect weather," I remarked at length. She nodded in a preoccupied manner.

"I have been wondering," she said after a moment, "why you came here."

"Did you not hear me explain?" I began.

She smiled.

"Oh, yes, but"—

"Surely nothing further is needed. The attraction of Monte Carlo is world famed."

"I do not believe, Mr. Aynsley," she said deliberately, "that you have ever gambled in your life."

I tried another tack.

"Well, then, I'm rather delicate, and the chill, damp fogs of London are rather trying to an invalid."

Again Miss Verney laughed.

"How unsympathetic you are!"

"The deep sea fishing last winter must have been rather bad for you. No, Mr. Aynsley, I'm a clear sighted young person, and I can quite see what has brought you so suddenly to Monte Carlo."

"Well?" I said, with an air of indifference.

She played with the tassel on her parasol for a moment. Then she smiled.

"Mrs. Fairfax," she said at length. I laughed outright.

"How amusing! Nothing of the sort. The usual attraction, I assure you."

"Mrs. Fairfax."

"Gambling — or invalid's natural aversion to chill, damp fogs!"

"Mrs. Fairfax!" repeated Miss Verney once again, with just a shade of emphasis.

I gave it up.

"A very charming person," I said.

"You admit it?" and her voice held a tiny note of triumph.

"Don't you?" I replied wonderingly. "She is talented, pretty, agreeable and"—

"A widow," put in Miss Verney.

"Yes, but her husband was hardly more than an acquaintance. He went to India, you know, shortly after their marriage, and was killed. Do you not think her fascinating?"

"Yes, undoubtedly she is a pleasant companion."

"And I'm a lonely bachelor man!" I remarked apologetically.

She turned to me with a smile. "Forgive me," she said kindly, "for reminding you of your pitiful condition. I only meant to show you that I guessed the reason for your sudden change of plans."

"Your intelligence is beyond reproach. But what made you think of Mrs. Fairfax?"

"My dear Mr. Aynsley," she laughed, "you forget last season."

I tried to recollect.

"The episode at the Cartons; the Melba night at Covent Garden," she reminded gently.

"You take great interest in my welfare," I said with a laugh. "I am very glad to notice it," I added with a glance at her.

"By the way," I continued after a pause, "where is Arthur?"

"I never trouble about Arthur," she replied quickly, "he is so wrapped up in his books and studies that even here at Monte Carlo I see very little of him."

I was amused.

"You have nothing against Mrs. Fairfax?" I suggested.

"Nothing whatever," she replied frankly. "I like her immensely."

This helped matters, I thought.

"You think she will make a good wife?"

"Admirable," said Miss Verney, calmly surveying the bay. "Her experience will be invaluable."

I caught sight of a couple that had just appeared on the farther end of the terrace.

"You will come to the wedding?"

A slight tinge of color appeared on Miss Verney's cheeks as she turned to me.

"Has it reached that stage?"

I glanced at the couple and noticed they were arm in arm.

"I believe so."

There was a slight pause. Miss Verney played with the tassel again.

"Then I suppose I must tender my congratulations?" she said at length.

"I believe it is customary among friends," I replied, with a glance at her. She had allowed her eyes to fall on the ground.

"You know she is very wealthy?" I added.

"You have been most fortunate in your endeavors," she replied in deliberate tones. "I trust you'll be very happy."

The couple were now opposite to where we were sitting. So engrossed were they in conversation that they had not noticed us. I felt an anticipatory shiver of enjoyment.

"I do not enter into the question," I said. "Look!"

She glanced up in surprise.

"Arthur and Mrs. Fairfax," she whispered.

"He is wrapped up in his studies again," I remarked. "I fancy he has taken the lady's eyes as his subject."

Miss Verney looked at me reproachfully.

"And you knew this all the time?"

"I'm afraid so. Arthur confided in me some months ago in London, and I have occasionally amused myself by helping him. Take the Melba night, for instance.

"Was that on Arthur's behalf?" she asked wonderingly.

I nodded. It occurred to me once again how extremely charming Miss Verney looked in white.

There was a silence for a minute or so. Arthur and Mrs. Fairfax passed out of sight.

"It wasn't the gambling," I remarked at length.

Miss Verney made no reply.

"Nor an invalid's aversion to the chill, damp fogs," I went on after a pause.

"Nor Mrs. Fairfax," she put in.

"No," I said slowly. "I came because I thought it just possible you might be pleased to see me."

There was another pause, and then I added:

"Are you?"

A smile crept round the corners of Miss Verney's mouth.

"Well, yes, I think I am," she said.

We see a good deal of one another now.—Gilbert Dayle in London Weekly Sun.

McCoy Had Enough.

Here is a story told by Parson Davies on Kid McCoy, the pugilist, as given in the Wilmington Sun:

"Kid McCoy attracted the attention of a crowd of sportsmen at the Gilsey House," says Parson, "and it was decided to introduce Lavenia Charmion, a trapeze performer and a muscular phenomenon, to him as a woman who wished to learn boxing. McCoy was delighted.

"The meeting took place, and the Kid told Charmion to take a position, in which of course she was very awkward. 'That is picturesque, but not pugilistically correct,' he remarked, with a smile of superior knowledge. 'Now,' he said, as she adjusted her arms, 'let go with your left.'

"It was a chop blow and made the air whiz, as the first attempt narrowly missed the Kid's face. He looked apprehensive and remarked: 'You have steam enough, but your execution is faulty. Now, hit out straight and let your body go with the blow.'

"The fist brought up suddenly at about the third button of McCoy's waistcoat. 'That is better,' gasped the Kid. 'That will do for the first lesson. Come again tomorrow, and we'll try the big gloves.'

"'Oh, how nice,' said Charmion. 'Do you know, I never had but one chance to box with a man. That was when a fellow tried to kiss me, and I knocked him down and broke his jaw with my boot heel. I'—

"'Excuse me,' interrupted McCoy, 'come to think of it, I have an engagement for tomorrow. Ah, yes, I leave town Sunday, but—but I'll see you again.'"

Pedagogue (severely)—Now, sir, for the last time, what's the square of the hypotenuse of a right angled triangle equivalent to?

Boy (desperately)—It's equivalent to a lickin fer me, sir. Go ahead.—London Fun.

Remarkable Musical Memories.

Possibly the greatest case on record is that wonder of wonders, the most intellectual of interpreters, the late Dr. Hans von Bulow. He not only played all of Beethoven by heart upon the piano, but knew all the symphonies in the same manner, and practically the whole Wagnerian output of musical metal, and it is claimed that so great was the mass of the piano music which Bulow retained "within the book and volume of his brain," inscribed in mysterious hieroglyphics somewhere among the molecules of the gray matter constituting the cortex of his cerebral organ, that he could have played 25 piano recital programmes without repeating and without a printed page. Since there go about 2,000 measures to the hour and two solid hours to an ordinary Bulow programme this would represent 100,000 measures of music, or about 4,000 large pages, something like eight or ten thick volumes.

Even Bulow was outdone by Rubinstein, in the field of piano music at least, if we can trust the anecdote mongers, for it is claimed that in one season at St. Petersburg he played a series of recitals which exhausted the literature of the piano and embraced 1,800 distinct compositions. It is mentioned of Mendelssohn that on one occasion, the score of Beethoven's "Sixth Symphony" having been misplaced, he raised his baton and directed the work from memory, but this does not seem to me a feat in the least remarkable, for the pastoral symphony is so extremely lucid and so bewitchingly beautiful that the only thing difficult or remarkable would be the forgetting of it. Mme. Patti knew 40 opera roles, and Varesi, the baritone, knew 80.—John S. Van Cleeve in Music.

Sharp Reproof.

The private records of the great English families show how often vast political events have grown out of individual quarrels or friendships.

One of the oddest examples of these huge oak growths from little acorns is found in the life of Lord Brougham. With all of his knowledge and talent Brougham was eccentric and slovenly in his personal habits.

While he was a young and comparatively unknown barrister he was asked to a dinner at which the prince regent presided. Mr. Brougham's hands needed washing. The regent's keen eyes rested on them. He beckoned to a waiter and gave an order which the man heard with a scared face, and then going out he speedily returned with a ewer full of water, soap and a towel.

He carried them to Brougham, presenting them with the prince regent's compliments. The barrister instantly withdrew and never afterward referred to the insult.

Years later, when the prince, now king, tried to divorce his wife, Brougham, as her defender, so vehemently sustained her cause that she triumphed. The king's name was not mentioned during the trial, though the nation knew that he was secretly the prosecutor. Brougham in his speech declared that he saw in the distance the nameless persecutor of his innocent client, quoting with terrific effect Milton's words:

The other shape,
If shape it might be called, * * * black it stood as night,
Fierce as ten furies, terrible as hell,
And shook a dreadful dart; what seem'd his head
The likeness of a kingly crown had on.

George IV felt seriously this savage attack. The nation sided with the queen, and her defender had paid his debt with interest.—Youth's Companion.

Happy Times.

Grandmother Goodley (glancing around on a slim attendance at prayer meeting)—Well, you know, the happiest times are sometimes had when two or three are met together.

Miss Goodley—Er—usually two, I think.—Chicago Inter Ocean.

"Beauty and Power."

The secret of a woman's power is in her complete womanliness, both physical and mental. This does not mean perfection of outline nor regularity of features. It does not mean wit, nor talents nor accomplishments. It means that physical attractiveness that comes from perfect bodily condition and the bright, happy cheerfulness of disposition which only complete health can insure.

A woman with a bright eye, clear complexion, mantling color in the cheeks and buoyant elastic step and manner has a natural attractiveness that no artificial agency can counterfeit.

A woman who is afflicted with the mortifying misfortune of a dull, sallow, pimply complexion or that listless movement and attitude which provokes only disgust and revulsion in the opposite sex, ought to avail herself of the purifying, invigorating power of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, which makes a strong, healthy stomach and digestive organism; purifies the blood and imparts a natural stimulus to the excretory functions; insures healthy weight, clear skin, bright eyes and the animated manner and bearing of perfect health.

A lady living in West Virginia, Miss Anna Callow, of Kyger, Roane Co., writes: "It is with pleasure I write you after using a few bottles of Dr. Pierce's 'Favorite Prescription' and 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and I think them valuable medicines for female troubles and weaknesses. I could hardly go about my work I had such inward weakness and constant misery in the womb. It worried me so that I would give out in walking a short distance. I had a bad cough and my lungs hurt me all the time. I got very thin, my complexion was bad, and my eyes would get so heavy in the evening they seemed stiff in the lids. I could hardly move them. Many persons were alarmed about me, I looked so bad and had such a cough; they were afraid I would go into consumption. I felt so badly every day that I had no life about me. I used only five bottles in all. I shall ever speak in praise of your grand medicines. They are blessings to suffering females."

Another good thing to have in the house is a vial of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They cure biliousness and constipation and never gripe.

Duhring has made a big cut on flour. He is now selling Port Costa at $1.10 and Oregon at $1.00 per sack.

POLITICAL POINTERS.

U. S. Grant, Jr., is gaining strength every day in his candidacy for United States Senator.

Emmet Seawell has declined the Democratic nomination for Congressman from the First District, owing to poor health.

Frank Burris, local Republican County Committeeman, who has been attending the State Fair at Sacramento, has returned home.

Gallant Rains is a candidate for Supervisor in Sonoma county, and his name would seem to indicate an ability to weather any political storm that blows.—Evening Post.

Somers Fulton, O. O. Webber and Frank J. Murphy, Republican candidates for Clerk, District Attorney and Sheriff, respectively, were in town last Saturday and favored this office with a call.

Wm. A. Mills, the Republican nominee for Auditor and Recorder, is making a thorough canvass of the county and is gaining friends whereever he goes. Billy is a winner and don't you forget it.

Robt. A. Thompson, candidate for Secretary of State on the Democratic ticket, in the opinion of many shrewd politicians, on account of his personal popularity, stands the best show of any man on the ticket of being elected.

The contest for Constable is waxing hot in this township. There are three candidates in the field—Chas. Ohm, Republican; Geo. W. Beatty, Democrat, and J. E. Robin, Independent. It is conceded that all three candidates will carry their own precinct and all three are claiming Agua Caliente.

August F. Dominie, the Democratic candidate for County Clerk, is a resident of Cloverdale. For many years he was postmaster of his town and has held other positions of public trust in that place. He is a young man of the strictest integrity and in every sense qualified for the position which he seeks. The only thing that can be said against Mr. Domine is that he is a Democrat with a very popular Republican pitted against him.

Frank E. Dowd, the Democratic nominee for Assessor, is hustling for votes in the northern part of the county and that is why he had not shown up in Sonoma Valley until a day or two ago. In order, however, to let the people know that he has not declined the nomination and to keep his name before the public he inserts his political card in these columns. Mr. Dowd is one of the most popular farmers of Vallejo Township, where he will secure a big majority.

Minnie Coulter, the Democratic nominee for Superintendent of Schools of this county, was in town Thursday. Miss Coulter is as bright as a brand new dollar. She is a graduate of Stanford University and is ex-Grand President of the Native Daughters of the Golden West. She is a school teacher by profession and resides in Santa Rosa. She possesses all those qualifications that are so essential to the proper management of the schools of this county.

Candidate Thomas Jefferson Butts' card appears in our political announcement column. By referring to the same you will see that he is the Democratic nominee for District Attorney, and thus relieve your mind of any doubt in the matter. Mr. Butts has the reputation among the legal fraternity of Santa Rosa of being one of the best read lawyers of Sonoma county. That he is an able prosecutor no better evidence is wanting than the fact that as Assistant District Attorney the past four years he has convicted almost every violator of the law that he has prosecuted. Tom has his enemies, but they are for the most part confined to law-breakers whom he has prosecuted and sent to jail.

Somers B. Fulton, Republican nominee for County Clerk, was in town on Friday and Saturday of last week. Mr. Fulton was elected County Clerk four years ago and has shown remarkable aptitude in conducting the affairs of one of the most important offices in the county. It can truthfully be said of him that as County Clerk he has kept the office out of politics and conducted it solely in the interests of the taxpayers. This is as it should be, and without any disparagement to his opponent, Mr. Domine, the Democratic nominee, we predict for him an increased majority over that of four years ago.

THE Tennessee Regiment of Volunteers are proving themselves to be a disgrace to the United States Army and a class of men composed for the most part of young fellows who, by their continuous marauding and violation of the law, have shown themselves to be without self-respect or character. Since their arrival in San Francisco from the East they have been a continual annoyance to the officials and on more than one occasion serious offenses have been charged to members of that regiment. Aside from minor crimes they beat and bruised an innocent negro without provocation and on Tuesday last a private in this notorious regiment deliberately killed a fellow citizen in cold blood.

COURT PROCEEDINGS.

In Department One of the Superior Court Judge S. K. Dougherty presided and disposed of many probate and civil matters.

The will of the late George Hirth was admitted to probate, his brother, Fred. Hirth, being appointed executor without bonds.

The final accounts were settled and distribution ordered in these estates: Estate of Catherine Tann, Mary McNally and J. F. Spridgens.

Lucy M. Campbell was appointed administratrix on the estate of Joseph Campbell in a bond of $800; Emily Seeley, administratrix on the estate of Albert L. Seeley, in a bond of $300; Susan M. McDonough, administratrix on the estate of Chris Nicholas, in a bond of $1800; A. R. Buckner, administrator on the estate of Andrew Cassassa, in a bond of $160.

The first annual account of the estate of Walter Spridgens was settled.

Mattie V. Wilkinson was appointed guardian in a bond of $250 to each minor in the matter of the estate and guardianship of Alfred Wilkinson et al., minors.

The matter of the estate of Guiseppe Piezzi was continued to September 13th.

The matter of the estate of Jas. L. Clark was continued to September 3rd.

A petition for a writ of assistance in the suit of the Bank of Ukiah vs. John S Reed et al., was granted.

The motion to open the cause was denied in the suit of the Santa Rosa National Bank vs. Anna M. Lewis et al.

These matters were set for trial: S. D. Shimm vs. John Daly, for October 11th; R. G. Wilsey vs. John Daly, for October 12th; Hunt Brothers vs. Randolph, for November 1st.

The suit of A. Bonaiti vs. the San Francisco and North Pacific Railway was dropped from the calendar as settled.

In the insolvency matter of H. W. Hudson a continuance was granted to September 19th.

Judge A. G. Burnett was on the bench in Department Two.

Bonefasio Bartolomei entered a plea of not guilty to the serious crime with which he is charged. The matter was continued to September 19th to be set for trial.

Miss Annie Henkston was appointed guardian of the estate of Ann Timms, and alleged incompetent, in a bond of $2000.

The motion for alimony in the divorce suits of Mary Baptiste vs. Manuel Baptiste and Leonora Silva vs. John J. Silva were continued to September 19th.

The suit of C. H. Pond vs. H. H. Meyer was set for trial on September 27th.

The suits of William Barry vs. Thomas Barry and William Barry vs. Thomas and Julia Barry were continued to September 19th.

The bond election to be held in this city on Oct. 24th will surely carry.

Delicate Children

They do not complain of anything in particular. They eat enough, but keep thin and pale. They appear fairly well, but have no strength. You cannot say they are really sick, and so you call them delicate.

What can be done for them?

Our answer is the same that the best physicians have been giving for a quarter of a century. Give them of Cod-Liver Oil with Hypophosphites. It has most remarkable nourishing power. It gives color to the blood. It brings strength to the muscles. It adds power to the nerves. It means robust health and vigor. Even delicate infants rapidly gain in flesh if given a small amount three or four times each day.

Scott's Emulsion

Ordinance No. 59.

An ordinance calling a special election in the city of Sonoma, submitting to the qualified electors of said city at said special election the proposition to incur a municipal debt aggregating Fifteen Thousand Dollars for the object and purpose of acquiring, constructing and completing a permanent system of municipal waterworks, including all necessary lands, rights of way, water rights, distributing pipes, leases, contracts for the supplying of water, structures, acqueducts, reservoirs, wells, tanks, machinery for the same, and connected with the use thereof, to supply the City of Sonoma and the inhabitants thereof with a sufficient quantity of pure, fresh water, the cost of which proposed waterworks will be too great to be paid out of the ordinary annual revenue and income of said City of Sonoma; providing for the issuance of the bonds of said city for said amount if said proposition be accepted by the qualified electors thereof as required by law; prescribing the time and manner of holding such election, and the voting for or against the proposition to incur said indebtedness and otherwise providing for and regulating said election.

The Board of Trustees of the City of Sonoma do hereby ordain as follows:

SECTION I.

Whereas, it appears to the satisfaction of the said Board of Trustees, and is by the said Board hereby determined and adjudged that the said Board of Trustees, did by ordinance duly passed by a vote of more than two-thirds of all the members of said Board of Trustees, on the third day of August, A. D., 1898, in the City of Sonoma, at a regular meeting of said Board of Trustees, then and there duly held, determine and adjudge that the public interest and necessity of the City of Sonoma, demand, and the public interest and necessity of said city do in fact demand the acquisition, construction and completion by said city of a permanent system of municipal waterworks, including all necessary lands, rights of way, water rights, distributing pipes, leases, contracts for the supplying of water, structures, acqueducts, wells, tanks and machinery for the same, and connected with the use thereof, to supply said city and the inhabitants thereof with a sufficient quantity of pure, fresh water for domestic use, and for the use of the Fire Department, and for flushing sewers, sprinkling streets and other purposes; and did also in said ordinance determine, and do now determine, that the cost of the acquisition, construction and completion by said city of said system of waterworks, including all necessary lands, rights of way, water rights, distributing pipes, leases, contracts for the supplying of water, structures, acqueducts, reservoirs, wells, tanks and machinery for the same, and connected with the use thereof, to be paid out of the ordinary annual income and revenue of said city; that said Ordinance No. 58, so passed as aforesaid, was thereafter and on the third day of August, A. D., 1898, duly approved in writing by the acting Executive of said City of Sonoma, viz: by the President pro tem of the said Board of Trustees; and that said Ordinance No. 58 was thereafter in accordance with the order and direction of said Board of Trustees, by the City Clerk caused to be published, and was duly published as provided by law, for more than two weeks consecutively, to-wit; commencing on the sixth day of August, A. D., 1898, and ending on the 10th day of September, 1898, in THE SONOMA INDEX-TRIBUNE, a weekly newspaper of general circulation printed and published in the said City of Sonoma, and as often as said newspaper was published during that time, to-wit: on the 6th day of August, 1898, the 13th day of August, 1898, the 20th day of August, 1898, the 27th day of August, 1898, the 3rd day of September, 1898, and the 10th day of September, 1898, such dates being the days of publication of said newspaper; and whereas said Board of Trustees did, by resolution duly passed by a vote of more than two-thirds of all the members thereof, authorize the Committee on Waterworks to secure the service of a competent engineer to assist them in their efforts, and whereas said committee did authorize, direct and employ Otto Von Geldern, a competent civil engineer, who had theretofore had successful experience in the work of the acquisition, construction and completion of permanent systems of waterworks to make, prepare and submit to said Board of Trustees plans and estimates of the cost of the acquisition, construction and completion of a permanent system of waterworks to supply said city and the inhabitants thereof with a sufficient quantity of pure, fresh water; that the said Otto Von Geldern did make, prepare and submit to the said Board of Trustees plans and estimates of the cost of such a system of waterworks; that the said Board of Trustees did by resolution duly passed by a vote of more than two-thirds of the members thereof, receive, accept and approve said plans and estimates; that as shown by said plans and estimates and as is now hereby determined, the maximum cost of the acquisition, construction and completion of a permanent system of waterworks, including all necessary lands, rights of way, water rights, distributing pipes, leases, contracts for the supplying of water, structures, acqueducts, reservoirs, wells, tanks and machinery for the same, and connected with the use thereof, will amount in the aggregate to Fifteen Thousand Dollars; that the entire assessed value of all real and personal property of and in said city is now in excess of two hundred and eighty-five thousand dollars; that the entire annual income and revenue of said city has hitherto been and now is the sum not to exceed Two Thousand Three Hundred Dollars; that there is now no outstanding, unpaid indebtedness of, or due from, said city; that the cost of the acquisition, construction and completion of said system of waterworks, including all necessary lands, rights of way, water rights, distributing pipes, leases, contracts for the supplying of water, structures, acqueducts, reservoirs, wells, tanks and machinery for the same, and connected with the use thereof, is too great

Geo. Engler visited in the city last Thursday.

Jas. Tate was a visitor to Petaluma last Tuesday.

City Trustee J. H. Seipp spent several days of this week in the metropolis, returning home Thursday evening.

Our enterprising citizen, G. H. Hotz, went to the city Tuesday and purchased a new stock of fall goods for his dry goods store.

On Sunday, September 18th, Rev. D. Q. Travis, formerly of Pocatello, Idaho, will preach both morning and evening at the Congregational Church.

Mrs. A. Glover, Mrs. V. L. Figueuido and the Misses Maggie and Jennie Glover, who spent last week with Sonoma Valley friends, have returned to their home in San Francisco.

The San Francisco and North Pacific Railway, with the enterprise always displayed by that company, have had the depot in this place wired and the building is now lighted throughout by electricity.

A large delegation from Sonoma Valley took advantage of the low rates on the San Francisco and North Pacific Railway and attended the Irish Fair in San Francisco last Saturday. The morning train was crowded with passengers and many went down in the afternoon.

The local agency of a well-known old line Life Insurance Company is open to the right man. He can devote his whole time or attend to it in connection with other business. This is an excellent opportunity for a wide awake man to build up a good paying business. Address, Manager, 214 Pine street, San Francisco. *

Alice, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. Church, is seriously ill at the home of her sister, Mrs. Spaulding, in San Francisco with diphtheria. It is thought that the little one contracted the dreaded disease before leaving Sonoma, as she was taken sick immediately after her arrival in the city last week.

At Union Hall on Friday evening, September 30th, the Schellville Social Club will hold high revelry. The occasion will be the first grand ball given by this club. On this occasion the hall will be illuminated for the first time with electric lights, and with good music the dance will be a great success.

The party going people of Sonoma Valley are looking forward to the annual ball of the Young Men's Institute, which will be held on Thanksgiving eve. This excellent order has given many successful social affairs in the past and it can be safely predicted that on this occasion Union Hall will present one of the most animated scenes known to our young people for some time.

Herbert Steward, a San Francisco boy who is a volunteer in Uncle Sam's army at Manila, writes to relatives in the former city of meeting Friend McHarvey on the battle field just after a heavy engagement with the Spaniards. Young Stewart was a relative of the Tivnen family, formerly of this place, and spent several summer vacations in Sonoma. He was well acquainted with Friend McHarvey before enlisting and writes that both are well and have so far passed through all engagements unscathed.

J. S. Young, the blacksmith, had a narrow escape from a serious accident on Tuesday evening last. Mr. Young was returning to his home at El Verano from this place and when near the Wegner property on Napa street both wheels on one side of his buggy came suddenly off, letting Mr. Young unceremoniously to the ground. No damage was done and after replacing the wheels the unfortunate blacksmith proceeded on his way, declaring that the next time he fixes his buggy he will see that the nuts are on sufficiently tight before leaving the shop.

JUDGE STEPHEN AKERS DEAD.

DEATH CLAIMS ANOTHER OF THE SURVIVING PIONEERS.

Came to Sonoma County in 1859 and for Many Years Figured in Public Affairs—A Prominent Mason.

Judge Stephen Akers is dead. The end came at 12:35 o'clock last Tuesday and with his taking away one of Sonoma Valley's oldest and most prominent citizens passes on to the great beyond.

For many years past Judge Akers has been very feeble, owing to old age and rheumatism, and has been enabled to leave his home at Schellville only upon rare occasions. He bore his old age with remarkable buoyancy up to a short time before his death and at no time was his mind impaired. On the day of his death he appeared as usual and there was no intimation that the end was near at hand until within a few minutes of the time he breathed his last. At about twenty minutes past twelve the Judge's son, Mont. Akers, visited his room, where he had been confined to his bed for a couple of days. After inquiring for his father's wants Mr. Akers left the room to attend to some work and upon returning a few minutes later found the old gentleman in a dying condition. He expired at exactly twenty-five minutes to 1 o'clock, the machinery of life having completely run down. The funeral was held on Thursday from his late home at Schellville and the services were conducted by Temble Lodge, No. 14, F. & A. M. A large concourse of friends followed the remains of the deceased to their final resting place in Mountain Cemetery.

Judge Akers was born in Franklin county, Virginia, eighty-three years ago. He was created under propitious circumstances, having an enviable lineage that dates back from one of the oldest families of the Old Dominion. After receiving an education, such as was afforded by the schools of those days, he started westward at the age of sixteen and emigrated to Missouri. There he was united in marriage to Miss Letha Snead, who died in this valley a few years ago, and in 1850, accompanied by his wife, he started overland for California by ox team, arriving in Sonoma Valley on October 11th of the same year.

During a continuous residence in Sonoma Valley of 48 years the deceased devoted most of his time to tilling the ranch at Schellville known as the Akers home farm, now owned by his son. Aside from engaging in farming in 1853, in partnership with Wm. Goodman, he established a store at Embarcadero, which was successfully conducted for a number of years. In the early days, the people recognizing his sterling qualities and consistency, he was called upon to take a prominent part in the affairs of Sonoma county and in 1856 and 1857 represented the First Supervisorial District. In 1868 he was elected Justice of the Peace of Sonoma Township, which office he held until 1864. He was a strong supporter of the public schools and was one of the first School Trustees of Sonoma. Mr. Akers was one of the charter members of Temple Lodge, No. 14, F. & A. M., which was organized in 1851. Throughout his life he was a consistent Democrat of the Jeffersonian stamp and figured prominently in local political circles in early days, but a number of years before his death he retired from active public duties and passed his old age with his son at Schellville.

Electric Lights on Napa Street.

The electric light company has set up three thirty-two candle power incandescent lights on Napa street, between the Union Hotel and Duhring's corner. They produce a beautiful, clear light and give better service for the money than arc lights, which are far more expensive. The City Trustees will decide at their next meeting how many they will use and what kind of lights they will adopt in lighting up the main thoroughfares of the city.

THAT SAILOR LAD.

Louis A. Gilbert, a Sonoma Boy, Writes from Manila.

My bonnie boy went off to the war,
The days since then are dreary;
And every hour I hunger for
A letter from my dearie.

He sailed away with a merry laugh,
And colors flying gaily;
He left me but a photograph,
I gaze upon it daily.

Where 'er my sailor boy may go,
The ties of love will bind him;
And bring him back at last I know
To the home he left behind him.

Louis A. Gilbert, who was born and raised in this place, and who enlisted in the United States Navy and was assigned to duty on the Monitor Monterey, writes to his parents as follows from Cavite, Manila, under date of August 5th:

"We arrived in this place yesterday noon, August 4th, after running into two heavy seas after we left Guam Island. On Sunday, July 31st, the seas broke over the decks of the Monterey and poured down the smokestacks and for two days we expected to go to the bottom of the ocean. Well, I am now in a place where I can smell powder. All that remains of the Spanish navy in this harbor is a few demolished smokestacks that can be seen sticking out of the water. There are twenty-two foreign men-of-war just outside of firing distance from the American battleships.

The U. S. Volunteers are using the Spanish navy yard at this place as a camp. It is a fine place. This information may not be news to you by the time this letter reaches you, as the cable service has been re-established by Admiral Dewey. The Monterey has received orders to-day to go up one of the rivers leading into the very heart of Manila and destroy a number of forts. These forts are provided with five, eight and nine inch rapid-fire guns. The river is also said to be mined and we will have to make a sneak on the Spanish. One cannot put his head outside of a port hole without finding a big gun staring him in the face, but they are American guns.

"The German ships and Dewey are having a great time here. The German Admiral threatens to fire on us if we bombard Manila and the English Admiral says if he does so he will fire on the Dutch. When Dewey first made a blockade run outside of Manila Bay the German Admiral was inside and every few days he would come out and steam around the American fleet in a menacing way. Dewey got disgusted with these tactics and told the German, in effect, he had better take a tumble. That if he was looking for a scrap he could get it any time. The Dutchman then left, but subsequently returned with a lot of fresh beef for Dewey and his men and that is the way he squared himself.

"The boys on the Monterey have traveled 7000 miles looking for a scrap, and if the Spanish don't give us the Ladrones, Porto Rico, Manila and Cuban independence we will make them suck vinegar through a straw."

CITY'S TAX LEVY.

The Trustees Fix the Rate 40 Cents on the $100 of Valuation

The City Trustees met last Monday evening for the purpose of fixing the tax levy for the fiscal year of 1898-9. After considerable discussion it was decided to make the rate 40 cents on the $100 of valuation. Last year and the previous the rate was only 30 cents, which is inadequate to conduct the affairs of the city as they should be conducted. The additional ten cents added to the tax levy this year it is thought will give the city all needed improvements and enable the Trustees to thoroughly sprinkle the streets, beautify the Plaza and light up the town with electricity. The present Board of Trustees, like its predecessor, is in favor of town improvements and has no private axes to grind.

A Great Zoological Garden.

The Zoological Society of New York propose to construct what will probably be the finest zoological garden in the world in Bronx Park, New York, and under the direction of the executive committee the plans are being fully elaborated. The society expects to open the gardens to the public in a satisfactory way on May 1st, 1899. While the work is progressing with all due rapidity and zeal, the old and well approved plan of relieving biliousness and constipation through the beneficient agency of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters finds general recognition. This excellent family medicine is a safeguard against malaria and rheumatism, and removes indigestion and nervousness. It invigorates the system through the medium of improved digestion and appetite, fortifies it against disease, and counteracts the effects of overwork, mental or physical. A wineglassful before retiring engenders health yielding and strength giving sleep. Let it have the persistent and systematic trial that it deserves.

CITY TRUSTEES.

They Meet in Adjourned Session and Transact Important Business.

The Board of City Trustees met in adjourned session last Thursday night and took action on the water question and several other matters coming before them for consideration.

The plans and specifications for a municipal system of water works were read and approved by the Board and Ordinance No. 59 was passed by a unanimous vote. This ordinance provides for the calling of a special election for October 24th for the purpose of submitting to the voters of Sonoma the proposition of incurring an indebtedness amounting to $15,000 for the construction of a municipal system of water works. Election officers to serve at said special were also appointed and their compensation was fixed at $3 each.

The Street Committee reported that the bridges inside the city's limits had been inspected and that four were found to be in need of repairs.

The Street Committee also reported that they had interviewed Mr. Weyl in regard to the disgraceful condition of the open ditch on Napa street. Mr. Weyl expressed a willingness to take steps toward remedying the evil, but objected to closing the ditch entirely. This disgusting nuisance, which is but a source of expense to the city, is not a necessity and is used as a dumping place for filth and to carry off a small amount of rain water. The latter could be easily turned into the main ditch on First-street West and thus save the city considerable annual expense.

The Street Committee was ordered to make all necessary repairs to bridges according to their discretion and the amount of funds in the treasury.

Upon motion of Trustee Davis, seconded by Trustee Seipp, four screens were ordered purchased for screening gravel before placing it on the streets.

WATER OR NO WATER.

The Question to be Re-Submitted to the People on October 24th.

By reference to Ordinance No. 59, published in another column, it will be seen that Trustees Davis, Duhring, Harris, Hartin and Seipp have called an election to be held on Monday, October 24th, for the purpose of voting bonds in the sum of $15,000 for the acquisition and construction of a municipal system of water works. These gentlemen have devoted several months in studying out the question of giving this town an abundant supply of pure, sparkling water for fire and domestic purposes with the least possible expense. Having solved the problem they now call upon all good citizens to stand by them in their endeavors to carry a proposition that will not only prove a source of revenue to Sonoma, but likewise a blessing to a long suffering and stagnant business community. The plans and specifications to be voted upon and which were accepted by the Board were prepared by that eminent civil engineer, Otto Von Geldern. These, together with other data bearing on the water proposition, will be published in these columns next week. In the meantime let those who have heretofore opposed public improvements in this town suspend their judgment on this latter proposition to the end that it may meet with even their favor and we may yet be enabled to all pull together for Sonoma's advancement.

Hood's Sarsaparilla Makes Repeated Cures in this Family—Inflammation of the Bowels, Headaches, Liver Complaint.

"After having the measles my father was left with inflammation of the bowels, and prescriptions did not do him any good. We read about Hood's Sarsaparilla, and he began taking it and it cured him and he has had no bowel complaint since that time. My brother was a sickly child and was always troubled with headaches. He has taken four bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla and is now well. My mother is taking Hood's Sarsaparilla for liver complaint and it is helping her. We regard Hood's Sarsaparilla as a wonderful medicine, and recommend it to others who are suffering." MISS MARY THURLOW, Bakersfield, Cal.

How to keep a restless child quiet in church is a question that often perplexes the person that took him there. A pencil and a little blank book in which he may write is an occupation that frequently satisfies, but a plan suggested by an English paper has the merit of decided novelty. This is to provide him with two pincushions, one full and the other empty of pins. The process of taking all of the pins out of the full cushion and sticking them into the empty one is, it is vouched for, an absorbing employment and one that does not quickly pall. It has the merit, too, of being noiseless.

DISGUSTED FISHERMEN.

It Made Them Ill to See an Old Time Angler Catch Trout.

One day a Boston party, on a fishing trip to Moosehead, came across one of the old school fishermen. He was up off the mouth of Tomhegan stream and was fishing out of a lumberman's bateau. It developed later that he was the cook for a crew of river drivers. On the bank near at hand stood the cookee, or his helper. The cook had thrown about a peck of table refuse into the lake in order to "tole" the fish, and over that lure he was having great luck. His pole was of the jib boom variety, and when a fish bit he would derrick it over his head into the bushes where the cookee was stationed.

The Boston men from their canoes watched operations with all the disgust of the true sportsmen.

"Got enough for supper yet?" shouted the fisherman over his shoulder as he set another great trout flamping into the bushes.

"No; better catch six or eight more," shrilled back the cookee.

"Say, how many fish do you two fellows usually eat for supper?" shouted a Boston man who didn't understand the situation.

"When you've cooked for 22 river drivers as long as I have," yelled the cook, derricking another fish, "you'll know more about empty nail kegs."

Hardly was this enigmatic utterance out when there came a tug at his line that was nothing short of tremendous. He twitched. The fish didn't come. He braced, set his jaws and pried. His line only sawed the hissing water.

"Play him! Play him!" screamed the excited sportsmen from the city.

"Play your grandmother!" bellowed the cook. "I ain't here to play. I'm here to fish." And as he spoke he boosted over his head a 15 pound laker. Any man in the Boston crowd would have given $10 to have played him an hour at the end of an eight ounce rod. 'Twas too much for their nerves. They came away.—Lewiston Journal.

VOLUNTEERS OF HAVANA.

How They Were Won With a Pocket Handkerchief Promise.

In 1823, when the revolution of ten years in Cuba began, no volunteers existed in Havana worthy of being called such. There was only one old regiment, and when Governor General Lersundi, then of the island, tried to complete this regiment he found the task difficult of accomplishment on account of the prevailing unwillingness to enlist. But just at this time, most providentially for the relief of the dilemma, some unknown hand covered the walls of Matanzas, near Havana, with huge posters promising each Spaniard his passage home and the privilege of carrying away with him whatever his pocket handkerchief could contain in the event of his enlistment.

The effect of this stimulus to the flagging pulse of the public was electrical, and the enrollment of 50,000 men followed within 48 hours. The volunteers thus came into existence with their chiefs in the majority. But the ruined merchants of the city of Havana soon found out and objected to the newly risen power. This opposition increased upon the arrival in Cuba of the new governor general, Duice, who came in 1869 as representative of the revolutionary government in Spain. He was a man of good faith, empowered by the government to grant Cuba all the reform she coveted and that had lately been offered. He would undoubtedly have put a term to the revolution, averting all the ruin and devastation which followed. But such an easy and magnanimous course did not suit that class which faced inevitable financial ruin as a consequence of such a policy.—San Francisco Chronicle.

African Skins.

Between 1850 and 1875 it is certain that some millions of blesbok, wildebeest and springbok must have been destroyed in the Transvaal and Orange Free State. The slaughter was so prodigious and the variety of wild animals so great in these wild regions of South Africa that the result made a sensible difference in the leather industry of Europe. The markets were filled with skins which, when tanned, gave leather of a quality and excellence never known before, but the origin of which, as the material was still sold under old names, purchasers never suspected. Hides of the zebra and quagga arrived in tens of thousands, and good as horsehide is for the uppers of first class boots, these were even better. Smart Englishmen for years wore boots the uppers of which were made of zebra and quagga skin or from the hides of elands, onyx and gemsbok disguised under the names of "calf" or patent leathers.—London Spectator.

Evading the Issue.

"Mr. Addemup," said Mr. Spotcash severely, to the bookkeeper, "I have spoken to you before of your careless manner of smoking in the office. You threw a lighted match in the wastebasket a little while ago and it set a lot of papers on fire. Such work as that might start a big blaze some day."

"It was heedless," replied the bookkeeper. "I will see that the office boy keeps that wastebasket emptied hereafter."—Chicago Tribune.

PROCLAMATION.

STATE OF CALIFORNIA.
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT.
SACRAMENTO, July 30, 1898.

WHEREAS, The Legislature of the State of California, at its thirty-second session beginning on the Fourth day of January, A. D., 1897, two-thirds of all the members elected to each of the two houses of said Legislature voting in favor thereof, proposed the following described amendments to the Constitution of the State of California, to wit:

Amendment Number One.

(Being Senate Constitutional Amendment No. 41.)

A resolution to propose to the people of the State of California an amendment to section eighteen of article seventeen of the Constitution, in relation to revenue and taxation, by which it is proposed to amend said section to read as follows:

Section 18. No county, city, town, township, board of education, or school district shall incur any indebtedness or liability in any manner or for any purpose exceeding in any year the income and revenue provided for it for such year, without the assent of two-thirds of the qualified electors thereof, voting at an election to be held for that purpose, nor unless before, or at the time of incurring such indebtedness, provision shall be made for the collection of an annual tax sufficient to pay the interest on such indebtedness as it falls due and also provision to constit te a sinking fund for the payment of the princi al thereof on o before maturity, which shall not exceed forty years from the time of contracting the same: provided, h wever, that the City and County of San Francisco may at any time pay the unpaid claims with interest thereon for materials furnished to and work done for said city and county during the forty third and forty-fourth fiscal years, out of the income and revenue of any succeeding year or years: provided, that any and all claims for making, repairing altering, or for any work done upon, or for any material furnish d for any street, lane, alley, court, place, or sidewalk, or for the construction of any sewer or sewers in said city and county are hereby excepted from the provisions of this section; and in determining any claims permi ted to be paid by th s section, no statute of limitations shall apply in any manner; and provided further, that the City of Vallejo, in Solano County, may pay its existing indebtedness incurred in the construction of its waterworks, whenever two-th rds of the electors thereof voting at an election held for that purpose, shall so decide. Any indebtedness or liability incurred contrary to this provision, with the exception hereinbefore cited, shall be void.

Amendment Number Two.

(Being Senate Constitutional Amendment No. 10.)

A resolution proposing to the people of the State of Californ a an amendme t to the Constitution of the State, by adding a new section, to be known and designated as section seven and one-half, article eleven thereof, providing for the framing by the inhabitants of counties of local county government acts for their own government. The said proposed new section to read as follows:

Section 7½. The inhabitants of any county may frame a county government act for their own government, relating to thematters hereinafter specified, and consistent with, and subject to, the Constitution and laws of this State, by causing a board of fifteen freeholders, who have been, for at least five years, qualified electors of such county, to be elected by the qualified elect rs of such county, at any general or special election, whose duty it shall be within ninety days after such election, to prepare and propose a county government act for such county, which shall be signed in duplicate by the members of such b ard, or a majority of them, and returned, one copy thereof to the Board of Supervisors, or other legislative body of such county, and the oth r county to be sent to the recorder of deeds of the county. Su h proposed county government act shall then be published in two papers of general circulation in such county, or if there be not two such papers, then in one only, for at least twenty days, and within not less than thirty days after such publication it shall be submitted to the qualified electors of such county, at a general or special election, and if a majority of such qualified electors voting thereon shall ratify the same, it shall thereafter be submitted to the Legislature for its rejection or approval, as a whole, without po e of alteration or amendment, and if approved by a majority of the members elected to each house, it shall be the county government act of such county, and shall in such case become the organic law thereof and supersede any existing county government act, and all amendments thereof, and all special laws inconsistent with such county government act.

A copy of such county government act, certified by the President of the Board of Supervisors or other legislative body of such county, and authenticated by the seal of such co nty, setting forth the submission of such county government act to the electors, and its ratification by them, shall be made in duplicate and deposited, one in the offi e of the Secretary of State, the other, after being rec rded in the office of the re order of deeds in the co unty, among the archives of the county.

All courts shall take judicial notice thereof. The county government act so ratified may be amended, at intervals of not less than two years, by proposals therefor, submitted by the legislative authority of the coun y, to the qualified electors thereof, at a general or special election held at least forty days after the publication of such proposals for twenty days in a newspaper of general circula ion in such county, and ratified by at least three-fifths of the qualified electors voting thereon, and approved by the Legislature as herein provided for the approval of the ounty government act. In submitting any such county government act any alternative article or proposition may be presented for the choice of the voters, and may be voted on separately without prejudice to others.

It shall be competent in all county government acts framed under the authority given by this section, to provide for the manner in which, the times at which, and the terms for which the several township and county officers, other than Judges of the Superior Court, shall be elected or appointed; for the r compensation; for the number of such officers, for the consolidation or segregation of offices, for the number of deputies that each officer shall have, and for the compensation payable to each of such deputies, for the manner in which, the times in which, and the terms for which the members of all boards of election shall be elected or appointed; and for the constitution, regulation, compensation, and government of such boards, and of their clerks and attaches; also, to prescribe the manner and method by which all elections by the people shall be conducted, and may in addition determine the tests and conditions upon which electors, political parties and organizations may participate in any primary election.

Whenever any county has in the manner and method herein pointed out, adopted any county government act, and the same shall have been approved by the Legislature as aforesaid, the directions of sections four and five of this article providing for the uniformity of a system of county governments throughout the State, and likewise providing for the election and appointment of officers, and the regulation of their compensation, shall not apply. Said county government act shall, as to any of the matters hereinabove provided for and declared by such county government act, not be subject to any law or amendment enacted by the Legislature, except by amendment first submitted to the electors and ratified in the manner hereinabove set forth.

Amendment Number Three.

(Being Senate Constitutional Amendment No. 44.)

A resolution proposing to the people of the State of California an amendment to the Constitution of the State, by adding a new section, to be know and designated as section five and one-half, article six, thereby providing for the organization of a court, to be known as the Court of Claims. The said proposed new section to read as follows:

Section 5½. The Court of Claims shall consist of any three Judges of the Superior Court, who may be requested by the Governor to hold court at the regular terms thereof. The Court of Claims shall have exclusive jurisdiction to hear and determine all claims of every kind and character against the State under such laws as may be p sse d by the Legislature, and its judgment thereon shall be final. The terms of the Court of Claims shall b held as follows:

In the City of Los Angeles, commencing on the second Monday of March;

In the City and County of San Francisco, commencing on the second Monday in July, and

In the City of Sacramento, commencing on the second Monday in November of each year.

The Judges holding such terms of court shall receive no extra com ensation therefor, but shall receive their actual expenses to be paid out of the general fund of the State treasury. The Legislature shall enact all laws necessary to organize such court, to provide for the procedure thereof, and to carry out the provisions of this section.

Amendment Number Four.

(Being Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 37.)

A resolution to propose to the people of the State of California an amendment to the Con stitution of the State, amending article eleven, by adding a new section thereto, to be known as section number five and one-half, relating to consolidated city and county governments. The said proposed new section to read as follows:

Section 5½. The provisions of section four and five of this article shall not, nor shall any legislation passed pursuant thereto, apply to any consolidated city and county government now existing or hereafter formed which shall have become, or shall become, organized under section seven, or se ure a charter under section eight of this article

Amendment Number Five.

(Being Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 35.)

A resolution to propose to the people of the State of California, an amendment of section fifteen and section sixteen of article five of the Co stitution of the State of California, by which it is pr posed to amend said sections to read as fol ows:

Se tion 15. A Lieutenant-Governor shall be elected at the same time and place and in the same manner as the Governor, and his term of office an his qualifications shall be the same. He shall be president of the Senate, but shall only have a casting vote therein.

Section 16. In case of the impeachment of the Governor, or his removal from office, death, inability to discharge the powers and duties of his office, resignation or absence from the State, the powers and duties of the office shall devolve upon the Lieutenant-Governor for the re idue of the term, or until the disability shall cease. And should the Lieutenant-Governor be impeached, displaced, resign, die, or become incapable of performing the duties of his office, or be absent from the State, the president pro tempore of the Senate shall act as Governor until the vacancy in the office of Governor shall be filled at the next general election, when members of the Legislatu e shall be chosen, or until such disability of the Lieutenant-Governor shall cease. In case of a vacan y in the office of Governor for any of the reasons above named, and neither the Lieutenant-Governor nor the president pro tempore of the Senate shall succeed to the powers and duties of Governor, then the powers and duties of such office shall devolve upon the speaker of the Assembly, until the office of Governor shall be filled at such general election.

Amendment Number Six.

(Being Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 38.)

A resolution to propose to the people of the State of California an amendment to section six, arti le nine of the Constitution of the State of Californ a, relating to grammar schools by wh ch it is pro osed to amend said section to read as follows:

Section 6. The public school system shall include pri ary and grammar schools, and such high schools, evening schools, normal schools, and technical schools as may be establ shed by the Legislature or by municipal or district authority, but the entire revenue derived from the State school fund, and the State school tax, shall be applied exclusively to the support of primary a d grammar schools. Grammar schools shall include schools organized in a school district, or union of school districts, having more than one thousand inhabitants, in which a course of study shall be taught which will prepare pupils to enter the agricultural, mining, or scientific department of the University of California.

Amendment Number Seven.

(Being Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 34.)

A resolution to propose to the people of the State of California an amendment to section two, of article four, of the Constitution, in relation to sessions of the Legislature, by which it is proposed to amend said section to read as follows:

Section 2. The sessions of the Legislature shall commence at twelve o'clock meridian on the first Monday after the first day of January next succeeding the election of its members, and shall be biennial unless the Governor shall in the interim convene the Legislature by proclamation. The Legislature shall then remain in session for twenty-five days, after which it must adjourn to some date not less than thirty nor more than sixty days from the time of adjournment. If the two houses fail to agree upon a time at which they will resume their session, the Governor shall, by proclamation, fix a date for such reconvening, which shall be within the limits above described. Upon reassembling, the Legislature shall complete its session. No pay shall be allowed to members for a long r period than seventy-five days and no bill shall be introduced in either house except at the first twenty-five days of the session, without the con cut of three-fourths of the members thereof.

NOW, THEREFORE, Pursuant to the provisions of the Constitu ion and an act of the Legislature of the State of California, entitled "An act to provide for the submi sion of proposed amendments to the Constitution of the State of California, to qualified electors for their approval," approved March 7, A. D., 18 , he above described proposed amendments are hereby published and advertised to be voted upon by ballot, by the qualified electors of the State, at the election to be held throughout the State on Tuesday, November 8, A. D., 1898.

The said proposed amendments are to be separately voted upon in manner and form as follows:

Each ballot used at such election must contain written or printed thereon the following words, whereupon the voter may express his choice as provided by law:
